

How We Can Feed a Growing World, While Sustaining the Planet

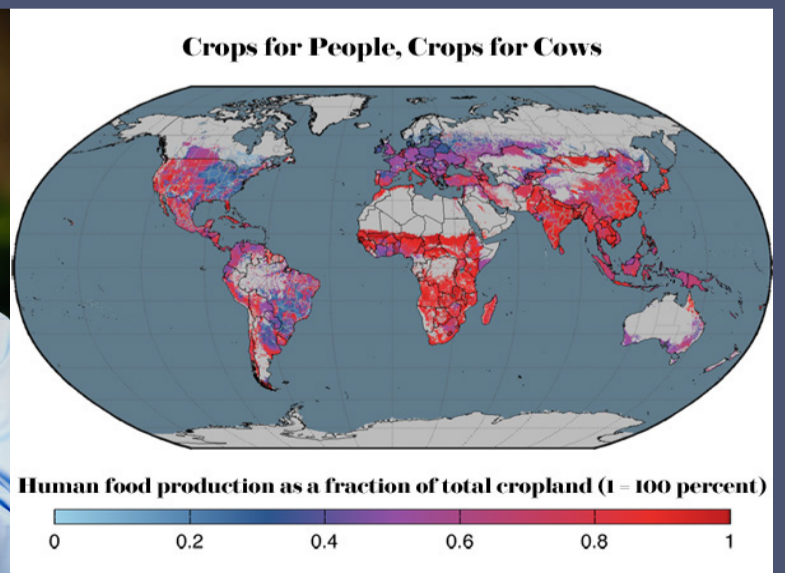

Dr. Jonathan Foley
University of Minnesota, USA

Thursday, 3 November 2011
18:00-19:30

Venue: Geocentrum 1, Sölvegatan 10, 1st floor, Room Världen

As we mark the addition of the 7th billion person to our planet, we look ahead to balancing the need to feed eventually 9 billion people, while maintaining the life-support systems of the planet.

Join us for an informative and inspiring presentation highlighting innovative solutions to achieve this goal, from the lead author of a new paper in Nature.

LUCSUS

Lund University Centre for Sustainability Studies

www.lucsus.lu.se

Free and open to the public
Welcome!